Hey Rich,

I received your email, but when sending to me directly and not through the secure message center in the account, I have to verify it was you that sent it in on a recorded line (despite our conversation yesterday morning about it). Then I will be happy to forward it for processing. Just need a quick call from you when you get a moment.

If you need to schedule it between things you have today, just let me know what time would be best for me to call you.

Thank you,

Chad Markland
