Hi Paul,

They'll need to complete the boilerplate docs such as account agreement and tax form. They will not need to complete a new KCP Non Advisory Letter and Finra2111 as these serve for the relationship.

Best,

Ari

This is just simple brokerage yes? Not all the extra KCP letters etc correct?

Rich specifically asked to open another brokerage account, and he understood that there is paperwork involved in doing so. Is there an alternative you have in mind?

Thank you,

Vahe

JJ - Rich Kahn just called us back. He would like to proceed with opening a Pershing account on the KCP desk for Gratitude to hold the GILD stock. Can you please send over all of the relevant KYC docs you have on your end as it relates to this particular entity?

We would like to take a look before we send Rich a list of documentation required to open the new acct.

Thank you,
Vahe
