I will need to check on which entity was the transferor . You MUST be perfect with taxes. I will help. I just have no information for the moment. I suggest you file an extension. I wish you would have told me earlier

Is it better to pay the estimated taxes on time with the tax day, or does all of this have to wait until October?

I would have needed to be more situationally aware and proactive (I told Rich about the problem last autumn, while he still had way more important and urgent things on his hands). I hope I don't get too anxious again.

03:52:01 pm

I agree with you re: "and reading writing and arithmetic , are the problems . narrow thinking. linear. very limiting". The actual machinery of thought needs to be cultivated, and it seems to be a distributed perceptual system. Reason exists to repair perception. The perceptual system aims for coherence, reason for correctness.

03:53:46 pm

The premise of AI is not that the mind can be explained by reasoning (grammatical operators that perform analytic operations over low dimensional discrete representations), but that we can recreate the perceptual machinery in a different computational substrate than the brain, by identifying the relevant mathematical regularities. The Church Turing thesis and the resulting theory of computational complexity classes was the central insight that made this seem feasible.

IMHO Chomsky never understood what the AI people thought they were seeing, and instead he thought that they did not understand the problem.

03:58:42 pm

It did not help that the AI people never thought much about consciousness, and if they did, they were not going very deep (Marvin sometimes brushed it off as a suitcase term that would be explained away along the way, and I think that Noam thinks it is deeply important.)

consciousness is merely part of the unexplained

(Deleted) Your mental representation of the metaphysical status of the unexplained seems to very different from mine.
