It's going great thanks. Another moving wall experience, though less extreme this time.

jeevacation

any wall experience qualifies as good

11:24:15 am

Jeffery A. Martin

As long as your running onto it, lol!

11:25:30 am

I've been thinking about our conversation. If you have someone walk through a wall in front of you, what will you do with it?

I have had 40 or more " individuals " none except Deepaks last person élan . did anything close to what you describe. élan held his hand in front of mine. and i could feel a buzzing in mine. GREAT .

That seems pretty simple!

I view nothing as out of bounds. i would look for mechanism. . just like telepathy, maybe its something we don't have the explanation for. but is merely counter intuitive.

11:27:28 am

we might not yet know mechanism , but so what !

11:27:58 am

Jeffery A. Martin

I was hoping you'd say that.

Hello from a bouncy car driving across backroads of India towards Chennai! The driver has what seems a lot like a 2G hot spot, and I have 10 minutes of laptop battery to get some emails out.

On plane to Chicago, about to shut down. FYI... There will be 3 key people there for the meeting mentioned in the final point. And 2 key people for house, etc. clearing/protection. The three will need lots of personal massaging, and it looks like I'll leave a day early so I'll really have to use my time there carefully if you want to move ahead. Essentially hit the ground running right when I arrive.

I'm finally back online and now it's your turn to be away! I was able to orchestrate a breakfast this morning with a couple of the people who are key to the secret meeting bullet point. They verified nothing like it had been done, and that it needed to be pulled together. I was actually a bit surprised at just how enthusiastic they were and how minimized the usual politics were. I now think this could be done for almost nothing. Probably travel and hotel. Maybe not even that or only for a few. Don't even need to find a venue, one was offered.
