I don't know...these folks in Eugene are pretty fascinating. You may not be able to compete. Oh, wait, I think you're in luck. They seem to be taking some kind of break to go hug trees. Again.

I've got a dinner at 6 PT. Free until then.

Back from dinner. Will be working online for a bit if you're in a reasonable time zone.

Had enough tree hugging for one day. I know, it's hard to believe. Going to go back to my hotel soon and keep catching up on things post China and India. Will be flexible time if you want to chat.

I'm going to take the weekend and hit some of the national parks and forrests. I figure I've never made it to Oregon before and who knows when I'll make it back, if ever. So, I'll have plenty of time on the road when I'll be on the phone if it is a good weekend for you..

Sure, what time is good for you? I'm at crater lake so totally flexible unless I hit a place with no cell while walking.
