The security features listed below are not listed, exceed industry standards.

Security Features:

1. Watermark: The watermark is visible from both sides of the note. It features a portrait of a man, likely a historical figure, and the words "FEDERAL RESERVE NOTE" and "ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS".
 2. Color Shifting Ink: The numeral "1" in the upper left corner changes color from blue to green as the note is tilted.
 3. Microprint: The words "ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS" are printed in tiny characters around the perimeter of the note.
 4. Security Thread: A continuous thread is embedded in the paper, visible as a wavy line when held to the light.
 5. Fluorescence: The note glows with a yellow-green light under ultraviolet light.
 6. Color Change: The numeral "1" in the lower right corner changes from blue to red when viewed under certain lighting conditions.
 7. Portrait: The portrait of the man on the note is a high-resolution, detailed image.
 8. Background Pattern: The background features a complex, repeating geometric pattern that is difficult to reproduce.
 9. Chemical Resistance: The ink and paper are resistant to fading and discoloration from environmental factors.
 10. Size and Weight: The note is designed to be compact and easy to handle.
