wow...hoping he feels better soon! For all involved ;)

We had a delayed school opening today of 2 hours... [REDACTED] needed it..he slept in until 9:15 and probably would have slept longer but the woman from the bank was at the house to do the appraisal and needed in [REDACTED] room! He slept well last night, but Sat. night i heard him cough from 2-3:30am...I gave him Delsom last night and it definitely helped...zero coughing through the night.

Sorry to hear that people are sick. Your dad is still sick. Somehow I've managed to fight anything off. He has been to a couple of doctors now and they all say his lungs are clear. That is the best we can ask for. he still has the yucky cough and still feels lousy. He can't sleep... yada, yada, yada. Sorry if I sound uncaring. I do care, but this has gone on for awhile now. lol I'll keep you informed.
