I installed a new scanner driver for your iMac @ 71st; the icon (a blue scanner) is in your dock. It should be much more reliable.

Yae! I won an award :) not sure I should be this excited.

I am on holiday until next Tuesday so we can reconvene! Thx.

You have the most interesting and weird problem this week. Congrats.

I suspect it's a driver issue, I'll have to resolve on site.

If you leave the scanner window open and scan your documents a second time do they come through correctly?

Hi James...well...I think the scanner is possessed...every time I try to scan a new document, it keeps coming up with the 'test' scan we were using yesterday...I have turned off and back on the printer in hopes that might do the trick...nope..the same 'test' scan keeps coming through as the most recently scanned paper...
