Tomorrow the cleaners will be at house at 9:45. I Will meet them there. I am also going to see Steve at planning and zoning to hand him the original letter. I will try to ask about the TCO. We need that. Also, I do hope you know I think you will do a great job In front of the board. The only reason I mentioned in the email to john that you may stick your foot in your mouth was for more ammo to get john to the meeting with us
When do we have driveways and bb hoop installed? And I did see some ink berries dying :(
